

1 in 5 of the world's children will grow up to be illiterate.....

2 in 5 of the world's children will not go on to attend secondary school.....

2 in 5 of the world's children have no access to computers or to the internet.....

Yet any one of these children cure cancer,

could be the one to eradicate poverty,

man a mission to Mars,

or solve Global warming.

Lack of a complete education and the chasm of the digital divide threatens not only their own survival, but that of civilisation.....

Our children are our future
